Fabryka Samochodów HONKER, formerly known as DZT Fabryka Samochodów w Lublinie Sp. z o.o., is a manufacturer of light commercial vehicles (gross vehicle weight up to 3.5 t) and automotive parts. In 2009, a bankrupt automobile plant in Lublin was purchased in order to revive the production of Polish commercial vehicles, i.e. HONKER CARGO (a successor of the popular LUBLIN make) and HONKER 4x4 (a universal off-road vehicle). HONKER CARGO comes in several body versions: chassis for mounting different bodies, dropside van, crew van, and box van. The company is also planning to introduce panel vans, extended panel vans, insulated vans, refrigerated vans and special-purpose vans. In autumn 2010 HONKER 4x4 was approved for civil use and can be used e.g. by power grid maintenance services, surveying services or in forestry and mining sectors. Moreover, the company offers a wide range of sheet metal pressings and services in the field of electrophoretic coating of metal surfaces (cataphoresis).
