Where You Can Find Us?

Both humanitarian and development aid are important area of activity in Poland. The Polish Government as well as numerous aid organizations permanently focus their efforts on delivering assistance where it is most needed. Their activities are based on the principle of international solidarity and are carried out both in the long term in developing countries and wherever in the world there is an immediate need.

Polish development and humanitarian aid is about saving lives, ensuring respect for dignity, care and protection for populations affected by natural and man-made disasters. Other areas of activity include supporting social development and activities to raise awareness and understanding of global issues.

Currently, the priority regions for Polish aid are countries of the Eastern Partnership area and countries of Africa, Asia and the Middle East. Poland's principles and rules for international aid activities have been set up and described in the strategic document The Multiannual Programme for Development Cooperation for 2021-2030. Solidarity for Development, inspired by the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development published by the UN.

From March 2022, Ukraine and its citizens occupy a special place in humanitarian and development aid goals as a part of the #PolandFirstToHelp initiative. The Polish State, through the activities of institutions such as the Polish Investment and Trade Agency (PAIH), is heavily involved in ongoing assistance and the construction of strategic programs for the reconstruction of Ukraine. Due to the Poland's geographical location and cultural proximity to Ukraine, Poland is a natural partner for cooperation in all activities aimed at the reconstruction of this country.
